Literature of the War.

A ship of war has down the Potomac in one of the expeditions against Manassas, but the report of the guns was heard yesterday in Washington, and was supposed to be the firing of a salute in honor of the birthday of the President. We were at breakfast when the sound reached us, and felt that we had been exactly [illegible] by Jove. "As for that day yet darkness seize upon it! Let it not be joined into the days of the year; let it not come into the number of the months." * * *

The most interesting point which we were to pass on the Virginia shore of the Potomac, of course, was Mount Vernon; and as we approached it every officer and guest scampered to the starboard side of the [illegible] deck for a sooner view. The [illegible] of atmosphere and weather were singularly favorable to the scene. It was one of those tender gray days, with a humid and fragrant south wind—days when the pores, as if remembering that they were first opened in Paradise, have a kind of enraptured consciousness of turning Edenward once more—and with eyes thus made ready for the enjoyment of beauty we came in sight of the green lawn before the door of Washington. The cupolas of shrubbery broke picturesquely the formal lines of the portico, and the noble woods on the upland shore of the Potomac gave a fine massiveness to the more immediate landscape of the estate—but there was an accidental phenomenon at the moment of our passing, which seemed to strike every beholder on our crowded deck with superstitious awe. I must venture to describe the scene and its concomitants, with the caution of one who feels that he is "staining a leaf" for future poetry or even history.

By command of the captain, the slow tolling of the steamer's heavy bell commenced just as we came opposite the mansion, and the bald head of the most apostolically beautiful of men, the Bishop of Ohio, was the sign of the uncovering of the crowd. Secretary Chase, and the fourteen or fifteen members of Congress, represented the Government, in solemn homage to the memory of the Father of our Country, and in it one of the utterly forlorn of mere guests, some military and some distinguished civilians—the whole assemblage of the deck, guests, officers and men recognizing the sacred spot by that act of silent reverence. And then came what seemed like a miracle. At the moment of our arrival in front of the house, and checked in the evolution that stopped the paddle-wheels, a white-haired man—the slave-holder, apparently, to the eyeball of Mount Vernon, and the owner of the Virginian soil—came out from the portico, and walked down to the water's edge. [illegible]

Philadelphia.—The Washington Star says the cause of secession must soon have laid for it will perish. We are hardpressed to throw it off!

The secessionists make their attacks upon empty forts and fortifications and treasuries.

The editor of the Stony South boasts of a twist from the devil! We guess he'd return the visit and make a pretty long stay.

The [illegible] and shoe business is unusually brisk in Maryland. The Union men are stocking all suspected persons out of the party.

A Mr. Miller, of Louisiana, is to be Secretary of War in the Cabinet of the Southern Confederacy. If he should prove as good a hider as Floyd has shown himself to be, we pity the financial condition of the Cotton Republic.

A Mississippi paper says that the Senators of that State are all in for secession. We presume then that the secession cause in Mississippi is "scotched."

A very small portion of the people control office, but the whole of them have to share a great public calamity.

A flower is sweeter the more it is pressed. So is a young woman.

The Albany Evening Journal says Toombs is a profound egotist. No doubt if he were on the gallows, he would continue to talk of himself until the sheriff dropped the subject.

The seceding States, fearing no doubt, a deplorable want of provisions, have made a provisional government.

Col. Colt, it is said, is about to establish an arms factory in Georgia. We should be sorry if Uncle Sam were to put a ball for upon that colt.

The Southern Government is not a government of the people. The people have had little or no voice in it. It is an affair of leaders, managers and usurpers. Those who live under it are "subjects."

Professor Wise, the once famous balloonist, is selling apples and candy at the corners of the streets in Memphis. That's getting down out of the clouds.

The Northern men who got turned out of office in the Southern States are called now-fledged abolitionists.

A Lancaster Anecdote.—The First [illegible] of Lancaster [illegible] the political publisher, [illegible] the dark not caring to [illegible] his dinner, with the [illegible] [illegible] that the [illegible] —London Punch.

CITY.

PUT THEM IN JAIL.—About ten or twelve o'clock at night, a band of profane persons congregate on the corner of First and Washington streets, and indulge in some very improper talk, in a loud tone. The true way to stop this, is to fine every one of them until he has no money left to buy whisky with.

A FIGHT.—At the meeting on Monday night, held at the Council Room, a fight ensued, in which one man had his "peepers" considerably blacked, and another received a scratch on his nose. Other persons, not wishing to get mixed up in a general free fight, quietly withdrew. Order was soon restored, and the meeting went on.

HORSES STOLEN.—On Sunday night about 7 o'clock, two saddle horses, the property of Mr. Thompson, were stolen from the camp ground across the river, while service was going on.

SCHOOL MEETING.—A meeting of the voters of School District No. 1 is called this evening at the school house.

DISCONTENT IN NORTH CAROLINA AGAINST THE CONFEDERATE GOVERNMENT.—The New York correspondent of the S. F. Bulletin says: A correspondent of the Tribune, writing from North Carolina, speaks of the Union sentiment in that State as being far more prevalent than has hitherto been suspected. There are, he says, "many Masons in that State who have not forgotten the indissoluble ties of their fraternity, and its solemn obligations. That in some instances, whole lodges, every member of which is a firm adherent to the Union. The next anniversary of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence, stained as it was this year by the passage of the Secession Ordinance, will witness the institution of a new State Government and the return of North Carolina to her allegiance to the Republic, with a full representation in both Houses of the National Congress. The services of a regiment of loyal North Carolinians will be shortly tendered to the Government, a majority of whom, despite the insulting answer of the late Governor Ellis to the President's proclamation, were anxious to proceed to the defense of the capital in April last. That all the recuperative energy of the Union opposes the evil forces of disintegration, and ultimately restores the ascendency of its beneficent National Government over every State."

HOW OUR WOOL TAKES HOLD AT FORTRESS MONROE.—Officers of regiments and companies have already come to comprehend the kind of accountability to which they will be held by Gen. Wool. The few questions he put, and hints thrown out to those with whom he has come in contact, have sufficiently illustrated what will be expected of them. In looking over resignations, and consequent impressments in all the regiments. "How many men are there in your company?" asked the General of a Captain yesterday. The man had dreamed that the commanding officer was near him. "Sixty-three," was the reply. "Count them." The Captain counts, and reports that he has fifty-three. "Where are the others?" "Two are sick, and I don't know where the others are." "This ignorance is inexcusable; never let it occur again." I venture to say it never will. Said he to the Colonel, "In two days I shall ask of you all the information I require concerning your regiment, and shall expect you will be able to inform me without referring to Adjutant or Sergeant." "Every man must be accounted for specifically," is the impression. The idea is already abroad that the Major General is going to inspect the officers and men early and frequently; and there is a general stir in all the camps.

A DISTINCTION.—The Boston Post says of Thos. F. Meagher's conduct in the battle of Bull's Run:

"Captain Thomas Francis Meagher was slightly wounded in the leg. His conduct was truly brave. He marched at the head of his company. When near the enemy, he ordered Irishmen, remember Fontenoy. With a screech the men followed, and wherever the fight was the thickest, there Captain Meagher was found."

Dr. Russell says of Captain Meagher:

"Captain Meagher, indeed, I am told, yielded to the universal panic, and was seen in front at Centreville making the best of his way towards Fort Corcoran, with exclamations which implied that for the moment he repudiated the Southern Confederacy as highly belligerent."

FORMATION OF THE NEW STATE OF KANAWHA.—The ordinance adopted by the State Convention at Wheeling for the division of Virginia and the formation of the new State of Kanawha, was passed by a vote of 48 to 27. Several members of the convention paired off. Strenuous opposition was made to the movement by the minority, but the obstacles were finally overruled. The new State contains 30 counties, with 28,786 inhabitants, about one-fourth of the whole population of Virginia. There are about eight or ten thousand slaves in the new State.

The President has directed that a Brigadier General's commission should be issued to Daniel E. Sickles.

Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters.—A specific for dyspepsia, diarrhœa, dysentery, general debility, rheumatism, liver complaint, bilious remittent fevers, and the pains and weaknesses which creep upon us in old age. For these ailments we earnestly invited a fair and a verdict. The trial has come off, the verdict has been rendered, and the Bitters are to-day the most popular remedy for the time they have been in existence, in this or any other country. It lives and continues to thrive and increase in popularity with marvelous rapidity, simply because the world wants it, will have it, cannot do without it. The dyspeptic demands it as his only help, the victims of diarrhœa or dysentery believes in it, the bilious sufferer cure nothing one bottle run out before he gets another. Both sexes, all ages, all classes, regard it as the most wonderful invigorant ever compounded. Hence the enormous demand.

Sold everywhere by Druggists, Liquor Dealers, and Grocers.

The Medical and Surgical Institute of DR. J. C. CZAPKAY is already secured in a position which places it, as well as its proprietor, far above the assaults of envy and professional malice. In the schools of France, the highest prizes are often awarded to practitioners in this department of medical science, and they occupy, with others, an equally lofty position in the profession. Ricord is an illustrious example, shining light among the philosophical stars of his age in Europe, and Dr. Czapkay has justly moulded him in this category, a proof of which, the Philadelphia College of Medicine complimented him with a Diploma, and the honorary and unbroken degree. Selecting this as his field of operation, although qualified as a graduate of the University of Pesth, and late Chief Surgeon of the Hungarian Revolutionary army, for more extended labors, Dr. J. C. Czapkay has bent his earnest attention to the cure of chronic and private diseases, in which he has become so great an expert, that he is now regarded as the leader in this branch of his profession throughout the United States, and his portrait and biography are published as matter of interest to their readers in the most extensive journals. The Doctor's offices are at his Medical and Surgical Institute on Sacramento street, corner of Leidesdorff, nearly opposite the buildings of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, San Francisco. We ask particular attention of our readers to his own certificates of remarkable cures, in another column of this paper. Persons not wishing to lose time in corresponding, please enclose $10 in their letters, and they will get immediate attention to their cases. Address, J. C. CZAPKAY, M. D., San Francisco, Cal. Laws of the United States

Passed at the First Session of the Thirty-Seventh Congress.

[PUBLIC—No. 7.]

AN ACT to alter and regulate the navy ration.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the navy ration shall consist of the following daily allowance of provisions to each person: One pound of salt pork, with half a pint of beans or peas; or one pound of salt beef, with half a pound of flour, and two ounces of dried apples or other dried fruit; or three quarters of a pound of preserved meat, with half a pound of rice; two ounces of butter, and one ounce of desiccated "mixed vegetables;" or three quarters of a pound of preserved meat, two ounces of butter, and two ounces of desiccated potato; together with fourteen ounces of biscuit, one quarter of an ounce of tea or one ounce of coffee, or cocoa, two ounces of sugar, and a gill of spirits; and of a weekly allowance of half a pound of pickles, half a pint of molasses, and half a pint of vinegar.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That fresh or preserved meat may be substituted for salt beef or pork, and vegetables for the other articles usually issued with the salted meats; allowing one and a quarter pound of fresh or three-quarters of a pound of preserved meat for one pound of salted beef or pork; and regulating the quantity of vegetables so as to equal the value of the articles for which they may be substituted.

SEC. 3. And be it further enacted, That should it be necessary to vary the above described daily allowance it shall be lawful to substitute one pound of soft bread or one pound of flour, or half a pound of rice for fourteen ounces of biscuit; half a pint of wine for a gill of spirits; half a pound of rice for half a pint of beans or peas; half a pint of beans or peas for half a pound of rice.

SEC. 4. And be it further enacted, That in case of necessity, the daily allowance of provisions may be diminished or varied by the commander of the senior officer present in command; but payment shall be made to the persons whose allowance shall be thus diminished, according to the scale of prices which is or may be established for the same; but no commander who shall thus make a diminution or variation shall report to his commanding officer, or to the Navy Department the necessity for the same, and give to the paymaster written orders specifying particularly the diminution or reduction which is to be made.

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, That no commissioned or warrant officer, or any person under twenty-one years of age, shall be allowed to draw the spirit part of the daily ration; and all other persons shall be permitted to relinquish that part of their rations under such restriction as the President of the United States may authorize; and that the spirit portion of the daily ration may be suspended or stopped by the commanding officer, whenever in his opinion it shall be expedient, for cause of drunkenness; and to any person who, by this section is prohibited from drawing, or who may relinquish the spirit part of his ration, there shall be paid, in lieu thereof, the sum of four cents per day.

SEC. 6. And be it further enacted, That the provisions of this act shall go into effect in the United States on the first day of the succeeding quarter after it becomes a law; and in vessels abroad on the first day of the succeeding quarter after its official receipt; that all acts and parts of acts which may be contrary to or inconsistent with the provisions of this act shall be and are hereby repealed.

SEC. 7. And be it further enacted, That the Secretary of the Navy be authorized to procure the preserved meats, pickles, butter, and desiccated vegetables in such manner and under such restrictions and guarantees as in his opinion will best insure the good quality of said articles.

Approved, July 13th, 1861.

CHEMICAL SOFT SOAP!

THE CHEAPEST, MOST ECONOMICAL AND LABOR-saving soap ever discovered.

PATENTED OCTOBER, 1860.

This Soap recommends itself for the following reasons: It is not only the best soap for the wash-tub and the toilet, but it is far the cheapest; washing is performed with half the labor required by other soaps; it removes all pitch and grease from woolen and cotton goods; in a word, is the great desideratum of the age.

Put up in five and ten pound cans. Each can warranted to make sixty and one hundred and twenty pounds respectively.

Full directions for making accompany each can.

"This soap will work its way into every Laundry, Bar-room and Kitchen in the United States."—Portland Transcript.

No family should be without Butterworth's Chemical Soap, as it is not only the best but cheapest soap in use.—Boston Journal.

Certificate.—The undersigned, desirous of saving those who may be unfortunately exposed to be afflicted, where a permanent relief of their [illegible] obtained, feels it his duty to thus publicly [illegible] sincere gratitude to Dr. L. J. Czapkay, for the [illegible] recovery of his health. Borne down by the [illegible] symptoms incident to the vicious practices of [illegible] like passion in youth; depressed in body and mind [illegible] to perform even the most trifling duty imposed [illegible] ordinary avocations of life, I sought the advice of [illegible] sicians, who at first regarded my disease as of [illegible] portance—but, alas! after a few weeks, and in [illegible] fluence, months, of their treatment, I found, to my [illegible] dle horror, that instead of relief, my symptoms [illegible] unprecedented in their torture; and being told [illegible] my disease being principally confined to the [illegible] would be of little consequence, I despaired of [illegible] my health, strength, and energy; and as a last [illegible] with but a faint hope, called upon Dr. Czapkay. [illegible] examining my case, prescribed some medicine which [illegible] instantly relieved me of the dull pain and [illegible] head. Encouraged by the result, I resolved to [illegible] immediately under his care, and by a strict adherence [illegible] his directions and advice, my head became clear, [illegible] thus collected, the constant pain in my back and [illegible] weakness of my limbs, the nervous reaction of my [illegible] body on the slightest alarm or excitement, the [illegible] and evil forebodings, the self-distrust and want of [illegible] in others, the incapability to study, and want of [illegible] the frightful, exciting, and at times pleasurable [illegible] night, followed by involuntary discharges, [illegible] spermatorrhœa, and in fact, in two months after having [illegible] the doctor, I felt as if inspired by a new life—[illegible] but a short time ago I contemplated to end [illegible] hand. With the view to guard the unfortunate [illegible] the snares of incompetent quacks, I [illegible] offer this testimony to the merit and skill of Dr. [illegible] and recommend him to all who may stand in [illegible] of medical advice, being assured by my own experience [illegible] under his care a radical and permanent cure will [illegible]

In all diseases, there is a great cause.

Ignorance of the knowledge of Nature's laws.

To the Afflicted:

Sufferers, whose cases are guaranteed in all stages of secret disease—Sexual Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its forms, Stricture, Gleet, Diabetes, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Seminal Rheumatism, Scrofula, Diseases of the Bones and Joints, diseases of the Throat, Nose and Eyes, Blotches upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Pimples on the Face, Fits, St. Vitus Dance—and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs—such as Nervousness, Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, Dimness of Vision, with peculiar spots before the eyes, Loss of Sight, Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Diseases, Eruptions upon the Face, Pains in the Head, Female irregularities—and all impediments of both sexes. It matters not from what cause or disease, however long standing or of what nature, relief and a certain, and in a shorter time than any treatment ever before offered by any other treatment, even if the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians, and exhausted all their means of cure. The most delicate complaints without odor, entirely vegetable, containing no sickening and free from mercury or [illegible] Thirty years of practice in Europe, the Atlantic States and California, have rescued from the jaws of death thousands who, in the last stages of the above maladies, had been given up to die by their physicians, which warrants to be promising to the afflicted, who may place themselves under my care, a speedy and permanent cure. Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health they create the first cause of consumption, scrofula, and many other diseases, and should be a terror to the human family. A perfect cure is scarcely ever effected—a variety of cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons, who not only fail to cure the disease, but ruin the constitution, after the system with mercury, which, with the disease, settles into a rapid consumption. But [illegible] of cases, even the treatment not cause death, especially the victim marries, the disease is entailed upon the children, who are born with feeble constitutions and the germs of diseases, followed by a virus which betrays itself in [illegible] tetter, ulcerations and other affections of the [illegible] throat and lungs, entailing upon them a wretched life of suffering, and consigning them to an early grave.

Exposure is another formidable enemy to health, for [illegible] to the train of human diseases causes [illegible] destructive principle in the system—drawing its victims [illegible] years of suffering down to an untimely grave. Destroys the nervous system, rapidly wasting away the powers of life, causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system, destroys the [illegible] energy, business, and all certainly [illegible] and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and [illegible] a prey to [illegible] and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death. With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victims of self-abuse, that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected, and with the abandonment of ruinous practices my patients can be restored to [illegible] vigorous health.

Irregularities and all diseases of males and females, treated with the [illegible] fifteen years of practice and a [illegible] of the most remarkable cures. Medicines [illegible] to any part of the State, Territory or Washington Territory, by patients communicating their symptoms by letter.

Consultations strictly confidential. Address DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, Medical Institute, Sacramento street, Sacramento City, opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Co.'s Office, San Francisco.
